From Our Foundation President

It is a distinctive and defining time for Ocean Medical Center and our Foundation.

As so many of us wrestle with the challenges of an uncertain economy, tough choices are inevitable when it comes to charitable giving. History has shown that in difficult times, Americans embrace the value of giving in a unique way, thoughtfully reserving to support organizations that represent important priorities within their communities, while providing the greatest opportunity for their finite philanthropic dollar to touch the most lives.

Having moved beyond the half-way point in 2009, I am pleased to report that we are outpacing the past few years in donor contributions. This mid-year result provides a renewed sense of mission, as Ocean Medical Center and the great family of caregivers who embody it are being entrusted with your precious investments. It is an honorable and energizing responsibility.

Through superior health care professionals, facilities and technologies; talented board and administrative leadership; the dedication of outstanding volunteers through the Association and Guild; and our prominent place within one of the most vibrant and successful health systems in New Jersey – Meridian Health, OMC is poised in this 25th anniversary year, to set a new standard for healthcare in Ocean County.

Be assured as you read ahead to just a sampling of what your commitment is providing for our community, this Foundation will continue to ensure that your gifts today, and in the future, will meaningfully support our mission of making Ocean Medical Center the hospital of choice for this entire region.

Thank you.

Meridian Health One of 35 to Be Awarded Cardinal Grant

Chosen from a pool of more than 400 applicants, Meridian Health was one of 35 recipients of Cardinal Health Foundation grants awarded this summer.

Plans are to use the $35,000 grant to fund a study placing pharmacists at the bedside to take medication history and reconcile forms to ensure medication safety, according to Kathleen Russell-Babin, Sr. Manager of the Meridian Health Institute for Evidence-Based Care.

The trial period for this study began at Ocean Medical Center this summer and will move to Riverview Medical Center for two months this fall. The purpose is to examine the impact of implementing a bedside pharmacist in the inpatient adult medical surgical units.

The Cardinal Health Foundation of Dublin, Ohio announced in June the awards, totaling $1 million, for innovative programs to improve patient safety at 35 hospitals, health systems and community health clinics across the country. In addition to Meridian Health, grant recipients include Scripps Whittier Diabetes Institute, La Jolla, Calif., Baylor Health Care System Dallas, Texas and Albert Einstein Healthcare Network Philadelphia, Pa.

From Our Nurses, For Our Team

Because of their strong belief in educating all team members in their unit, 11 nurse managers have each established a new OMC Nurse’s Professional Development Award. These awards will be bestowed each year on a team member from the unit by the nurse manager and must be used to further professional development.

This award and recognition program is very unique because it is funded by nursing leaders to support and advance professionalism in their own units, according to Regina Foley, RN, VP of Nursing and Chief Nurse Executive. “Enhancing professional development will continue nursing excellence at Ocean Medical Center,” she said.

An employee of the health system since 1983, Kathleen Martin, nurse manager for pediatrics and the family health center, is one of the first 10 to fund these awards. “I have so much love and respect for the nurses and staff that I work with. I will do whatever I can to benefit their educational development and help them attend a conference or forum without worrying about the financial burden,” she said.

Peace of Mind

Thanks to the continued generosity of the Ocean Medical Center Association and the Guild of Ocean Medical Center, team members, physicians and visitors can all enjoy a bit of serenity just beyond the hustle and bustle of the hospital walls. Located outside the Emergency Department, the new Reflecting Garden provides a quiet outdoor seating area steps from OMC’s doors. “We are grateful to the Guild and Association for thinking of us and providing a space to enjoy the outdoors,” said Richard Epstein, VP Operations. A smoke free extension of the hospital, the garden has plenty of seating and new plantings for privacy, shade and sunshine throughout the year.
Ginny Horner is passionate about nursing. Although she retired four years ago, she still works as a liaison for the joint replacement program at OMC, joking that since she has had two hip replacements, this is the perfect fit for her now.

So, it is no surprise that the Ginny Horner Nursing in Excellence Award, re-named after her for 40 years of service, requires nominees to be role models with energy and a passion for their calling.

“I have always loved my work, there was never a day that I didn’t. And, I love the fact that nurses are being recognized by their peers for their ability, dedication and commitment,” Ginny said. She added that she has had the honor of working with every one of her award recipients.

This year’s recipient, Diane Jantausch, a critical care RN in the Cardio-Pulmonary Rehabilitation department is no exception. In her 30th year at OMC, Diane was honored to receive this award because Ginny was her nurse educator when she first started at Point Pleasant Hospital.

“I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to Ginny,” Diane said. “I am proud to be an RN under the supervision of Regina Foley, Donna Ciufo and Cynthia Feeney and to work with dedicated and highly educated colleagues who share a vision of providing the best health care always.”

Diane’s position includes direct patient care for those diagnosed with heart and lung disease. She was chosen from a pool of 17 nominees put forward by peers, managers and department heads. In addition to being nominated, nominees must be direct care givers with at least one year of employment.

“I am still in shock over this award,” Diane said. “It is fulfilling enough for me just to assist my patients and be rewarded with a smile!”

The Kellogg Family gift has had a significant impact on our nursing staff and continues to mean so much to everyone who receives this generous award.

The Healing Paws Pet Therapy program at Ocean Medical Center made such an impression on Claire Jones, Supervisor of the Patient Care Center, that when she lost her beloved 16-year-old dog Sandy, she adopted not one but TWO dogs, Molly and Maggie, in hopes she could have them trained as additions to the program.

“Therapy pets are simply amazing,” Claire said. “You have a cute little dog that has no clue what a vast difference it is making in someone’s life. It is simply amazing.”

Earlier this year, Claire’s cocker spaniel, Molly, was named the first recipient of the Healing Paws Scholarship. Since Claire and her husband plan to train their other cocker spaniel, Maggie, as well, the scholarship is greatly appreciated.

Since 2002, OMC has been reaping the benefits of the Healing Paws program. Established by Jill Marmo, Manager of Rehab Services, the program has proven to be advantageous to patients, team members, visitors and family members. Jill volunteered her own boxer, Jeter, and a mastiff named Porter as pilot dogs, and what began as a form of complimentary medicine for oncology patients was quickly approved and adopted by Dr. Kleinfeld-Infection Disease. OMC currently utilizes ten certified therapy dogs.

Last year, Sandra Elliott, director of consumer tech services for Meridian Health, established The Healing Paws Scholarship to assist with the costs associated with therapy dog training. The Scholarship is open to OMC team members interested in joining this wonderful and worthy program.

Healing Paws is also looking forward to another generous donation by Dr. Lori Christensen – a Memorial Wall to honor all of the remarkable participants over the past years. Be on the lookout for this admirable addition to the OMC campus.

Beloved Employee Still Connected to CCU

Patrick Roach made quite an impression on the Critical Care Unit at OMC.

His wife, Gail, a CCU nurse for many years, suggested to her newly retired husband nine years ago that he should fill his free time finding work at Ocean Medical Center. And that he did. For seven years, before he passed away in 2007, Patrick worked as a unit secretary in CCU and quickly became a beloved member of the team.

“He was a big man, but gentle and kind. He could smooth out a rough situation quickly and with much finesse,” said Daveen Miller, RN in CCU. “When Patrick was diagnosed with cancer, it was a traumatic time for his family and also his OMC family. He continued to work with ‘his girls’ as long as possible and we were grateful for the time we got to spend with him.”

Because of his strong connection to the medical center, family members Neil and Joanne Grossman established the Patrick Roach Scholarship Fund in his honor to provide educational monies to the nurses and team members in CCU that cared for him during his last days and were a significant part of his life prior.

This year, Debbie Curry and Medea Macaluso, both RN’s in CCU received the award. Debbie, an employee since 1981, attended a two day CCRN review course and Medea, employed since 1988, attended a national nursing convention in Chicago.
SPECIAL EVENTS

It’s been said that fundraising has been more difficult than ever in the current economic climate. Ocean Medical Center Foundation supporters obviously didn’t get the memo! More than $105,000 was raised during the annual Golf Classic this summer. Held June 15th at the beautiful Manasquan River Golf Club in Brielle, the event attracted 138 golfers, up from 125 last year. Since 1991, the Golf Classic has netted more than $1.3 million for programs and services at Ocean Medical Center.

As part of the post-golf festivities, Ruth Harms, member of the Ocean Medical Center Foundation Board since 2001, was awarded the Community Champion Award. This award, presented by the medical and dental staff recognized her generous commitment to our hospital, patients and community.

“It is almost like this award was created for her,” said Jim Petillo, senior development officer. “She is always there for us, 100 percent.”

This year’s chairs, Nina Anuario and Kevin Buckelew, were thrilled to introduce the Doctor’s Invitational to the tournament. The Invitational was an opportunity for OMC’s doctors to enjoy an afternoon of intense competition while supporting a worthy cause. The winner of the Invitational, Dr. Paul Gilson, received a trophy and a chance to defend his title in next year’s tournament.

The golf outing could not have been possible without the help of the local business community. The Ocean Medical Center Foundation is especially thankful for the leadership support of Peter Cancro, who sponsored the Jersey Mike’s Pink Ball Tournament, and George and Ruth Harms, the Tournament Benefactors.

OMC Golfers on the Ball

More Than $105,000 Raised During This Year’s Outing

More than 30 Ocean Medical Center departments entertained and informed you through interactive displays this spring during the 2nd Annual OMC Community Day.

Donning T-shirts with the medical center’s 25th anniversary logo, 235 participants in the 5K Run/Walk, an increase of 17% over last year, kicked off the day’s events. The kids’ races followed with 50 children from 18 months to 14 years competing in three separate races.

True to the event’s goal, health screenings, including blood pressure, cholesterol, BMI, bone density and stroke assessment were also offered to interested community members. A lecture on motionXcellence, Meridian Life Fitness and Rehabilitation’s new sport performance lab, attracted a small crowd that generated several customers. Other local organizations that attended included Brick police, Brick fire department, Ocean County Running Club, Jenkinson’s, Health Care Quality Strategies and the Community Advisory Board.

Annual Gathering Continues as Top Regional Forum

Despite tough economic times for nonprofits
across the country,
local business leaders brought their wallets along to the 18th Annual Healthcare Perspective
Luncheon on May 8.

The event managed to top last year’s total with 365 members of the business community in attendance.
All funds raised will benefit
Meridian’s not-for-profit hospitals and services, including Jersey Shore
University Medical Center and K.
Hovnanian Children’s Hospital in Neptune, Ocean Medical Center in Brick, Riverview Medical Center in Red Bank, and Meridian partner companies located throughout Ocean and Monmouth Counties.

Amid a sea of pertinent topics brought about by current economic times, there is one that is nearest and dearest to our hearts – universal healthcare. Keynote speaker Patricia Andriolo-Bull, Director of Commonwealth Choice of Massachusetts, led the discussion at the Ocean
Place Resort and Spa in Long Branch on the model being used in her state of providing universal healthcare for residents and how it might be applied in New Jersey.

The Healthcare Perspectives
Luncheon, an educational forum, is held each year in order to enable local business leaders to learn about health care issues that have an impact on their companies and communities.
The success of the event would not have been possible without leadership sponsors QualCare, Inc.,
Bank of America and Gallagher
Benefit Services, Inc.

A anyone who entered the atrium lobby at Ocean Medical Center on June 6th hesitated for a moment to make sure they were in the right place. That evening, in honor of the medical center’s 25th anniversary, the atrium became more than a hospital entrance. It became a place where friends gathered to reminisce among stylish décor and live jazz entertainment. It became the place where 25 years of care, commitment, growth and expansion was celebrated.

The Ocean Medical Center Association and the Guild of Ocean Medical Center generously helped to support the summer chic-themed cocktail party with live music by Junior Pauls and hors d'oeuvres courtesy of Ocean’s own food and nutrition department. More than 135 friends of the medical center attended the fun and casual event. Many have been a part of the Ocean family since dedication ceremonies were held July 4, 1984!

All of those in attendance – physicians, employees, volunteers, donors, board members, and other friends – took great pride in celebrating how far Ocean Medical Center has come in a quarter century. During his remarks, President Peter Daniels led a champagne toast to acknowledge such a memorable past and look forward to another 25 years of extraordinary medical care.

“Today in Brick Township, a hospital is born.”
– John Paul Doyle, then Assembly Majority Leader

JULY 4, 1984

Carl and Priscilla Hiby enjoy the OMC 25th anniversary party.
A challenging economy did not stop generous Ocean Medical Center team members from giving back during the 2009 “Count Me In” Team Member Annual Fund campaign this spring. “We came together to support our home away from home. As always, we are proud of our OMC family,” said committee chair Lorraine McLaughlin. “Everyone Counts was the motto during this campaign and focusing on the people here is what really made the difference.”

More than $25,000 was raised by nearly 300 team members and volunteers in honor of OMC’s 25th anniversary. These funds will benefit a variety of departments and programs at the medical center.
Making Access Even Easier

Just minutes after the ribbon was cut on the new, handicapped accessible door for outpatient dialysis, Susan Scherler, president of the Guild at Ocean Medical Center was able to see it put to good use as the button was pushed and a stretcher was wheeled in with ease.

“It is all about access. This is not just a door. This gift will help so many people gain access to the services they need,” said OMC President W. Peter Daniels. He added that approximately 125 patients are treated monthly in outpatient dialysis, located in the medical arts building on the OMC campus.

This generous contribution was made in memory of Susan’s mother, Doris Coyle, of Brick, who utilized the facility for 10 years before passing away last spring. In lieu of flowers, Susan asked well-wishers to make gifts to the Guild to fund this project.

“The staff here took such good care of my mother, this is a wonderful way for us to remember her,” Scherler said while thanking staff members in attendance. “We always had to fight to get her wheelchair through that door. I hope to save others from that struggle in the future.”

Commitment of Young Volunteers Recognized

Congratulations to Gina Custode, Shreya Patel, Brianne Tenety and Joelle Urquhart, the 2009 Junior Volunteer Scholarship award recipients. A total of $1,500 was awarded to each winner; $500 from the Guild of OMC, $500 from the OMC Association and $500 from the medical staff to honor their commitment of more than 200 hours of volunteer service in at least 2 years. All have been accepted into a medical program and will begin their studies this fall.

If you are a past scholarship recipient or past volunteer, OMC would like to hear from you! Please contact Claire Jones at (732) 836-4371.

Generous Employees Provide Patient Entertainment

A monthly 50/50 run throughout 2008 has filled a need for patients in Same Day Surgery

Television have been purchased for each of the 23 beds in the unit, thanks in large part to this fundraiser. The televisions were presented by the OMC Association and the effort, which netted $4,300, was coordinated by Claire Jones and Jill Mosteller, both members, according to President Norma Pols.

Although they did not raise enough to purchase all of the televisions, Claire said the raffles helped raise awareness as well as funds. “My husband was in SDS often and I saw the need firsthand,” she said. “The raffle was a way to get the word out that this project would greatly enhance the patient experience.”

Mickey Coles, manager of the department since 2001, said the televisions have been a wish list item for the department for 7 years. “Our patients definitely appreciate the diversion,” she said.

Jewish Community Need Recognized

In honor of Ocean Medical Center’s 25th anniversary and his 25th year with Meridian Health, Jeff Borell, Outcomes Measurement Manager for Meridian Health, made a gift that has filled a void at OMC for the growing Observant Jewish community utilizing the medical center’s services.

Thanks to Borell’s generosity, a hospitality room to be used by a spouse or family member during the Sabbath or holiday periods, opened two days after Passover at OMC. The room contains facilities for sleeping, showering, eating (complete with Kosher pantry), or just resting.

“I became observant when living in Lakewood and became very involved with the community there. I felt it was the proper time to give back to both the Meridian and Lakewood communities. Through this contribution, I was able to do both,” Borell said.

Honor a Loved One With a Gift to OMC

Brick resident Gayle Peters expected her husband Robert to receive quality care as a patient at Ocean Medical Center. What she did not expect was the way team members went above and beyond to ensure that the entire family was well taken care of. Joyce Cline-Blasi, RN, Oncology Clinical Advocate, even took it upon herself to help secure an earlier flight for the patient’s son and grandson so that they could visit with their father and grandfather one last time.

Her appreciation of these kindhearted acts prompted Gayle to return the thoughtful gestures with one of her own. When Robert passed away, in lieu of flowers, she urged friends and well-wishers to give to OMC in her husband’s memory to recognize the measures OMC team members took to make sure all of her family’s needs were met.

Honoring a loved ones memory with a gift to OMC is a wonderful way to ensure that quality health care remains available in our community for all those in need.

What Will Your Legacy Be?

The word “legacy” literally means something handed down from the past. Your legacy will be shaped by the impact you have had on people, organizations and the world. You receive Making a Difference because you have had an impact on Ocean Medical Center. Through your donations of time, treasure and talent, you have helped OMC to become the premier health care provider in Ocean County, meeting the needs of all who live and work here. For this you have our heartfelt thanks.

As you consider your long-term financial and estate plans, we hope that you will consider adding to your OMC legacy by partnering with us to secure the hospital’s future while also meeting your personal planning objectives.

We find that many of our most loyal friends want to financially help OMC achieve its mission, but struggle with how to do so when times are tough. Fortunately, there are many ways you can make a gift while also taking care of your own needs. For example, do you need to:

• Increase your income now or for retirement?
• Pay for college for your children or grandchildren? or
• Maximize your children’s inheritance?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, we can help. To learn more about how Ocean Medical Center can partner with you and your advisors to craft your legacy, check off the correct boxes on the reply envelope or contact Jim Petillo at (732) 751-5116.

To honor his mother’s memory, Peter Cancro, owner of Jersey Mike’s, pledged $100,000 to benefit OMC during the ribbon cutting this spring at the Shore Grille, his restaurant inside the medical center. Peter proudly presented his generous contribution, to benefit the planned Emergency Department expansion, in front of the Grille where a plaque hangs in memory of his mother Sheila.

“The Shore Grille brings the same commitment to quality, excellence and customer service that we strive for as a medical center,” said OMC president Peter Daniels. “And, the food is really good!” He jokingly added that we may deliver more pizzas than babies with the addition of the eatery which opened its door in February.
